Marigolds are plants that bear brightly colored blooms. They are popular in flower gardens. People also plant marigolds among vegetables. Their leaves have a strong scent that can drive away insect pests. Marigolds are native to southwestern North America, Central America, and South America. There are about 30 different species, or types. They are annual plants, which means that they live for only one year. The most popular varieties include the French and African marigolds.
